

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

WASHINGTON WOMAN HAS PLAN FOR WILSON'S CAMPAIGN FUND

Says Feminine Democrats of Country Should raise the Nominee's Expenses

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—Miss Katherine Dabney of this city is the originator of an entirely new idea for defraying the campaign expenses of the Democratic nominee for President, Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey. She conceived the idea, and gave the initial impulse to organize the Woman's National Democratic League, which is country-wide in its scope, and has as its object paying the campaign expenses of the Democratic party in its coming fight.

Miss Dabney says she experienced no little difficulty in organizing the league, no one caring to take the initial step. After the league received the enthusiastic commendation of many men prominent in the Democratic party things became easier for her. Applications for membership and expressions of cooperation began pouring in from every quarter.

The first meeting of the local branch of the league was held June 1. Officers were elected at this meeting, and each section of the proposed constitution was read, discussed, amended where it appeared to be necessary, and adopted, without a hitch of any sort.

Every one interested in the organization being fully aware of the object, and taking a deep interest in the progress of the work proposed, the preliminary work has been disposed of in record time.

"When the league was formed we decided to give our support to whatever candidate the convention in Baltimore selected, not declaring ourselves to favor any one candidate," said Miss Dabney.

"I am convinced of the accomplishment of the object we have in view," Miss Dabney continued. "Many of the Democratic Senators have assured us of their support, and consider the idea to be a step in the right direction, and a long step, too. In previous campaigns much of the fund obtained has come from a few rich men and corporations. With our system we mean to obtain a far greater number of smaller contributions from every city and town in the United States. With women working to accomplish this in all parts of the country I believe we will meet with great success."

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the local branch of the league, of which Miss Dabney was appointed vice president, Mrs. John H. McLean was elected president. Mrs. McLean did not wish to accept the office, feeling that she was not qualified to act as president, and asked the members to reconsider accepting the office only tentatively. Mrs. John Shervin Crosby of New York has been made president of the national organization, with the power to appoint vice presidents for the State organizations.

Several Vice Presidents.
Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, wife of the Senator from Florida, has been appointed vice president of the league in that State. Mrs. Claude A. Swanson is vice president in Virginia, and Mrs. Clarence W. Watson, wife of the Senator from West Virginia, is the vice president in her State. In Oklahoma the vice president is Mrs. Thomas P. Gore, wife of Senator Gore.

"There is more or less misunderstanding about the question of woman's suffrage in connection with this new organization," said Miss Dabney. "I would like to say that we, as an organization, heartily endorse any progressive movement of women, and do not advocate it, being organized for the one purpose already stated. There are a great many of us who are suffragists, and our organization does not disapprove of the movement. I have been a suffragist myself for twenty years, but let me emphasize that the Women's National Democratic League disregards the question altogether."

WOMEN FOR THE STATE ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, July 23.—It would be startling to hear the Speaker of the Assembly at the 1913 session of the State Legislature say, in recognizing the wild waving of a hand at one of the desks, "the Assembly woman from San Francisco has the floor," but it may so happen. Two women candidates for the Assembly filed their nomination papers in the Secretary of State's office today.

Helen Wilsey Hall filed papers as a Socialist candidate for the Assembly from the Twenty-seventh Assembly district and Lizzie Robe as a Socialist candidate for the Twenty-fifth district. In both cases the petitions were correctly made up and the filing fees and candidate's affidavits properly signed. No information as to the married or unmarried state of the candidates is contained in the petitions.

Should these San Francisco women be elected to the State Assembly they would not be the pioneers in the field in the United States. There are four women members of the Colorado Assembly, one of whom has served several terms.

Wide-brimmed hats are now much in vogue, very far from the models trimmed with lace being most in favor. But few of the lingerie hats of a season or two ago are seen now, most of the new models being picture hats of lace and satin.—Pittsburg Sun.

Belts of black patent leather are being worn by exclusive women with both serge and linen skirts.

WOMEN OF EAST WEARING MEN'S SOX; SO COOL

"Are they wearing them?"

"What?"
"Why, socks!" whispered the reporter.
"Sure, Great fad just now," replied the man behind the counter yesterday in an exclusive hosiery shop. "We make a special style and keep a large stock for our women customers," he announced in perfectly audible tones. "They're shorter in the feet and longer in the heel—we call them three-quarter hose," he finished.

"Colors?"
"Mostly black, white and tan, but we fill orders for any other shade to match summer dresses," he answered.

And without more encouragement he pulled down from the shelves several boxes of the new summer sock which New York women have adopted.

The abbreviated stockings reach just above the curve in the calf of the leg midway to the knee. Instead of having a wide ribbed band at the top there is a three or four inch fold, resembling that of the ordinary length stocking.

"Helps to keep sister from getting her mixed up with brother's or husband from trying to draw on a pair of his wife's when he is in a hurry," the salesman explained.

The fold is elastic enough to hold the stocking in place without garters, but in the case of an undeveloped calf, men's garters may be worn or round ones with dainty little rosettes or bows will serve to hold the sock where they belong.

The silk sock cost $2 a pair and the cotton ones 50 cents.

"Our customers are buying thin lisle and silk stockings of the usual length and then rolling them down just below the bend of the knee," said a young woman who is head of the hosiery department in one of the large stores.

"If you start right and roll them hard and tight you will have something that will answer as a garter and keep your stocking up. Oh, yes, ever so many women are doing it, if they don't wear regular socks, because it's so much cooler."

"How do they keep those long corsets pulled down where they belong if they don't wear a full set of supporters? Oh, they just attach the end of the side supporters to a pair of round garters which some women wear above the knee and some wear below. They don't all wear the side supporters, it's so much cooler without them and this summer women have reduced their lingerie to the lowest possible limit."

BLONDE HAIR IS SCARCE; ALL DEARER

LONDON, July 4.—When the edict went forth that the Chinese were to cut off their pigtail, a slump in the hair market was predicted, but it has not occurred. On the contrary, prices have gone up.

At the last French hair market, held the other day, blond hair was especially dear and difficult to obtain. The reason given is that the blond French peasant girl is nowadays too proud of her appearance to sell her hair.

False hair, says a West End coiffeur, is so much more in demand and the supply is so much smaller that prices are rising all the time. Most of the blond hair sold now is bleached from darker hair. In the last two years false hair has doubled in price.

The reason for the increased demand, according to the same authority is that nearly every woman makes additions to her own tresses because it is the fashion to do so, and the present styles of hair dressing are difficult to carry out without extra switches and such arrangements.

Curls have gone out of fashion and long switches and plaits are required, and these need more hair. Some of these switches are between twenty and thirty inches long and cost more than $50.

Women, said the coiffeur, are now wearing chignons, transformations, fringes, switches and plaits. A plait that cost $20 in 1910 is today worth $40. So with the other articles the prices have just doubled in two years.

White, wavy hair is so expensive and rare that it costs almost half the price of gold at wholesale. Gold costs about $19 an ounce, and white hair about $8.50. When made up into switches or curls, white hair is often sold for $25 an ounce.

Like other hair, white hair has doubled its value in two years. Women with white hair will not sell it as a rule, and most of the hairdressers' stock comes from combings. White transformations cost $125 each, but, as in the case of jewels, there is no fixed market value for white hair, of which there are about a hundred different kinds.

As real white hair is so scarce a good kind of Angora goat hair is often used as a substitute. When this is in

HUGHES COMPANY WEDDING IS "BUSTED"

Bert LeBlanc and Stella Gray have come to the parting of the ways after six months of married life. Honolulu people remember the Hebrew comedian of the Hughes Musical Comedy company and the chorus girl he married here last December, will read the following from a San Francisco paper with interest:

That trip of the Hughes and Frankel Musical Comedy Company which introduced the Texas Tommy to the benighted peoples of Honolulu, Yokohama, Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila, and enslaved the hearts of so many young millionaires of the Far East that the steamer Persia, which brought the company home, is said to have been loaded with the gold and jewels presented to the chorus girls, wasn't such a success after all. Everybody was happy when the Persia steamed into port a few weeks ago. But the happiness wasn't in all cases the sterling article, and yesterday two of the company had their names inscribed in the sad register of the divorce court.

Flo-a Stella Cohn, or Stella Gray, as she is known on the stage, was one of the few who did not claim to have had ropes of barbaric pearl and gold offered her by the susceptible phyto-crats of the lands of the setting sun. The troupe's own comedian, Bertrac Cohn (Bert LeBlanc on the programs) to all the world besides. They were accordingly married in Honolulu December 31, 1911.

The bride is an ingenue. But she describes her husband so that it would appear that he should have been cast for the heavy villain's part rather than for that of funny man. There seems to have been nothing funny in the young couple's domestic life. Daily scoldings are what she says she had to receive, in lieu of the expected caresses. And Cohn is alleged to have upbraided her continually, without cause, even accusing her of flirting with other men. She never did such a thing in her life, she avows.

April 18th last was the occasion, she declares, of the greatest humiliation of her young life. For then she was informed by Pearl Lloyd, one of the Texas Tommy experts of the company, that Cohn had visited her at her hotel in Manila and cooed to her that his wife had an affinity in that very city. Mrs. Cohn says that the mental anguish caused by this roundabout accusation cannot be expressed by any words in an ingenue's vocabulary.

Cohn got a salary of $50 a week. He is now living at 1223 Webster street. The wife, whose residence is 1743 Clement street, asks for whatever alimony the Court may think proper and for divorce.

BATES-BELL WEDDING AT ST. CLEMENT'S TONIGHT

This evening at 8:30, at St. Clement's church, Miss Ray Bell will become the bride of Ensign Carl Marshall Bates. All friends of Miss Bell are cordially invited to attend the ceremony.

short lengths it is as cheap as bleached white hair, and costs about $2.25 an ounce wholesale. But the expert from whom this information was derived has a switch of Angora goat hair, twenty-four inches in length which is valued at $30 an ounce because of its wonderful length. As a rule white hair is not long naturally, and a piece exceptionally long now in the hands of a London hair merchant is valued at $37 an ounce wholesale.

RECREATIONS NEW THEATER IS ASSURED

"A new photo-play theater will be opened to the amusement public of Honolulu by the end of this month, assured Fred G. Noyes, a local impresario who returned from San Francisco this morning as a passenger in the Oceanic liner, Ventura."

"I have completed all arrangements for the presentation of the latest American as well as foreign films at a downtown location. Noyes who has been identified with the local theatrical situation for a year or more, has closed a deal for a Hotel street building and already a large force of carpenters and decorators are transforming the structure into what is claimed will be one of the coolest and cosiest theaters in the city."

"I propose to introduce many of the latest novelties in movie pictures to the Honolulu public," declared Noyes this morning in briefly outlining some of his plans.

"There is a bewildering array of film services represented on the coast from which to make selections. It will be the aim of the new theater to cater to the best patronage. A popular priced house will follow the opening of the enterprise."

A photographic news service is making events that have transpired throughout the world, and especially in the United States during the past few months. Is one of the schemes that received attention by Mr. Noyes during his travels on the coast and to the eastern states.

He has also purchased some of the latest equipment for the successful presentation of pictures.

CLUB-SWINGING CHAMP WILL GO AFTER RECORD

Champion Tom Burrows, seems to be the originator of the endurance club-swinging records. As far back as 1893 he, by wielding a pair of clubs for 8 hours at the Royal Military Gymnasium, Aldershot, England, put up the first swing. Now he will try 80 hours on Wednesday at the Empire. The following rules must be carried out to beat the record: To swing not less than 80 complete revolutions each minute; to swing without cessation from start to finish, without rest, stop or sleep. No juggling, knob-swinging, holding the club below the handles, or artificial aid allowed to hold the clubs; clubs to weigh not less than 3 pounds, the pair to be weighed by the judges. Should a contestant through no fault of his own drop a club, it shall be immediately restored, and the swing continued pending the judges' decision. At all times during the record at least one member of the committee shall be present, such official to sign the record book on going on and coming off.

Manager R. Kipling will present a star picture program each performance, and Burrows will give a special exhibition of swing to march, waltz and ragtime music.

BAND CONCERT.

The Hawaiian band will give a public concert this evening at Emma Square at 7:30 o'clock. The program: March: The Juggler. Loney. Overture: Light Cavalry. Suppe. Finale: Il Trovatore. Verdi. Selection: Lucretia Borgia. Donizetti. Vocal: Hawaiian Songs, by Berger. Selection: Neapolitan Songs, Godfrey. Waltz: Blue Danube. Strauss. Finale: Kohala. Berger. The Star-Spangled Banner.

Tunics play an important role in the fashions of the summer, and appear quite as often in frocks for the tiny daughter as for her mother, says the Washington Herald.

Dainty tunics of broderie Anglaise and silk muslin will be a feature also of the muslin and lawn summer frocks, and these are extremely cool and delightful for young girls. Tunics of muslin and lawn are most effective, too, draped over satin charmeuse.
